Capital Insulation have recently completed a major soundproofing project for me, consisting of insulating 3 walls and two floors/ceilings. The project was completed to my complete satisfaction.

The company performed the job promptly, within the agreed time, to a high standard and to the agreed cost.

The employees were clean and tidy, and took great care not to damage any furnishings, floors etc. Also at the end of the job, they made sure that everything was cleared away, leaving no waste for me to clean up.

The job itself has had the desired effect of minimising noise from my neighbours and can be considered a success.

I have no hesitation in being a reference for this company.

Yours sincerely
